Working to develop better jobs and opportunities for all Oklahomans

"As an entrepreneur who employess many people in the Grand Lake area, I know what it takes to create jobs and economic growth. And I understand first hand how government policies can help or hurt a business. I believe in a free market, in paying my employees a wage they can live on, treating people fairly, and giving everyone the opportunity to work hard and achieve their dreams. When re-elected as your state Representative, I will continue to use my business experience to help keep good jobs in Oklahoma while working to attract new opportunities for the people of our state."

Reform Oklahoma's broken workers' comp system

Employees and employers have both been failed by our expensive workers' compensation system. It drives businesses from our state. I know this first hand because, as an employer, I have had to take money from my family's checking account just to pay excessive workers compensation bills. Oklahoma deserves a fair system to protect both workers and employers.

Attract and create more well-paying, skilled jobs in Oklahoma

There is tremendous competition across the nation for the creative and skilled jobs in fields like technology, information, aeronautics and research and development, to name a few. When competing with other states or countries to be the location of these new jobs, Oklahoma needs every tool in our arsenal. If we want companies to select us, we need a skilled and ready workforce, friendly tax policies, and limited government regulation.

Be responsive to the needs of Oklahoma businesses

The business community doesn't need more politicians passing laws without understanding how those changes affect business owners and their employees. For too long, the state waited until a business had decided to leave or close shop before trying to respond to their needs. I will seek input and involvement from the business community in finding solutions that will help those businesses prosper and grow.

Politicians who just talk about economic development aren't getting the job done. We need a State Representative who really understands what it takes to run a business and create jobs.

We need Doug Cox.
